

CINNAMON LEADERSHIP TRAINING

What is Cinnamon Leadership Training?

Cinnamon Leadership Training equips leaders of social action projects with the skills, knowledge and confidence they need to manage successful, effective social action projects. Held in locations across the UK, the one-day courses bring together individuals from the same area who want to gain the practical skills to make a difference in their communities.

Who is Cinnamon Leadership Training for?

The training is not for 'experts', neither is it limited to church leaders. Cinnamon Leadership Training is open to anyone, from social activists to community leaders and all those interested in developing the capacity and skills needed to lead more effectively.

Who runs the Cinnamon Leadership Training courses?

The courses are delivered by professional trainers who have a passion not only for equipping leaders, but also for social action. The trainers use their extensive experience to run engaging sessions involving short teaching slots, powerful video clips, group discussion and time for personal reflection.

What is covered in the training?

Over the course of the day, Cinnamon Leadership Training will help participants to learn skills in the following areas:

- Leading confidently
- Recruiting and managing a team
- Promoting their project
- Building effective partnerships
- Developing robust fundraising and evaluation strategies

Our hope is that participants return home excited and confident about leading the social action project in their church. Many find it invaluable to have interaction and build relationships with others facing the same challenges and opportunities.

'The teaching level and style of interaction were brilliant. The resources were all excellent.'

Leadership training participant.

'It's more than a training course. It's more like a journey that's going to bring change.'

Leadership training participant.