

Community Transformation

CIVIC – Local Partners

This tool helps to identify existing and potential partnerships in your local area and rates your relationship with them so that you know where to invest time in the future. Consider the relationships you have that fall into the following categories:

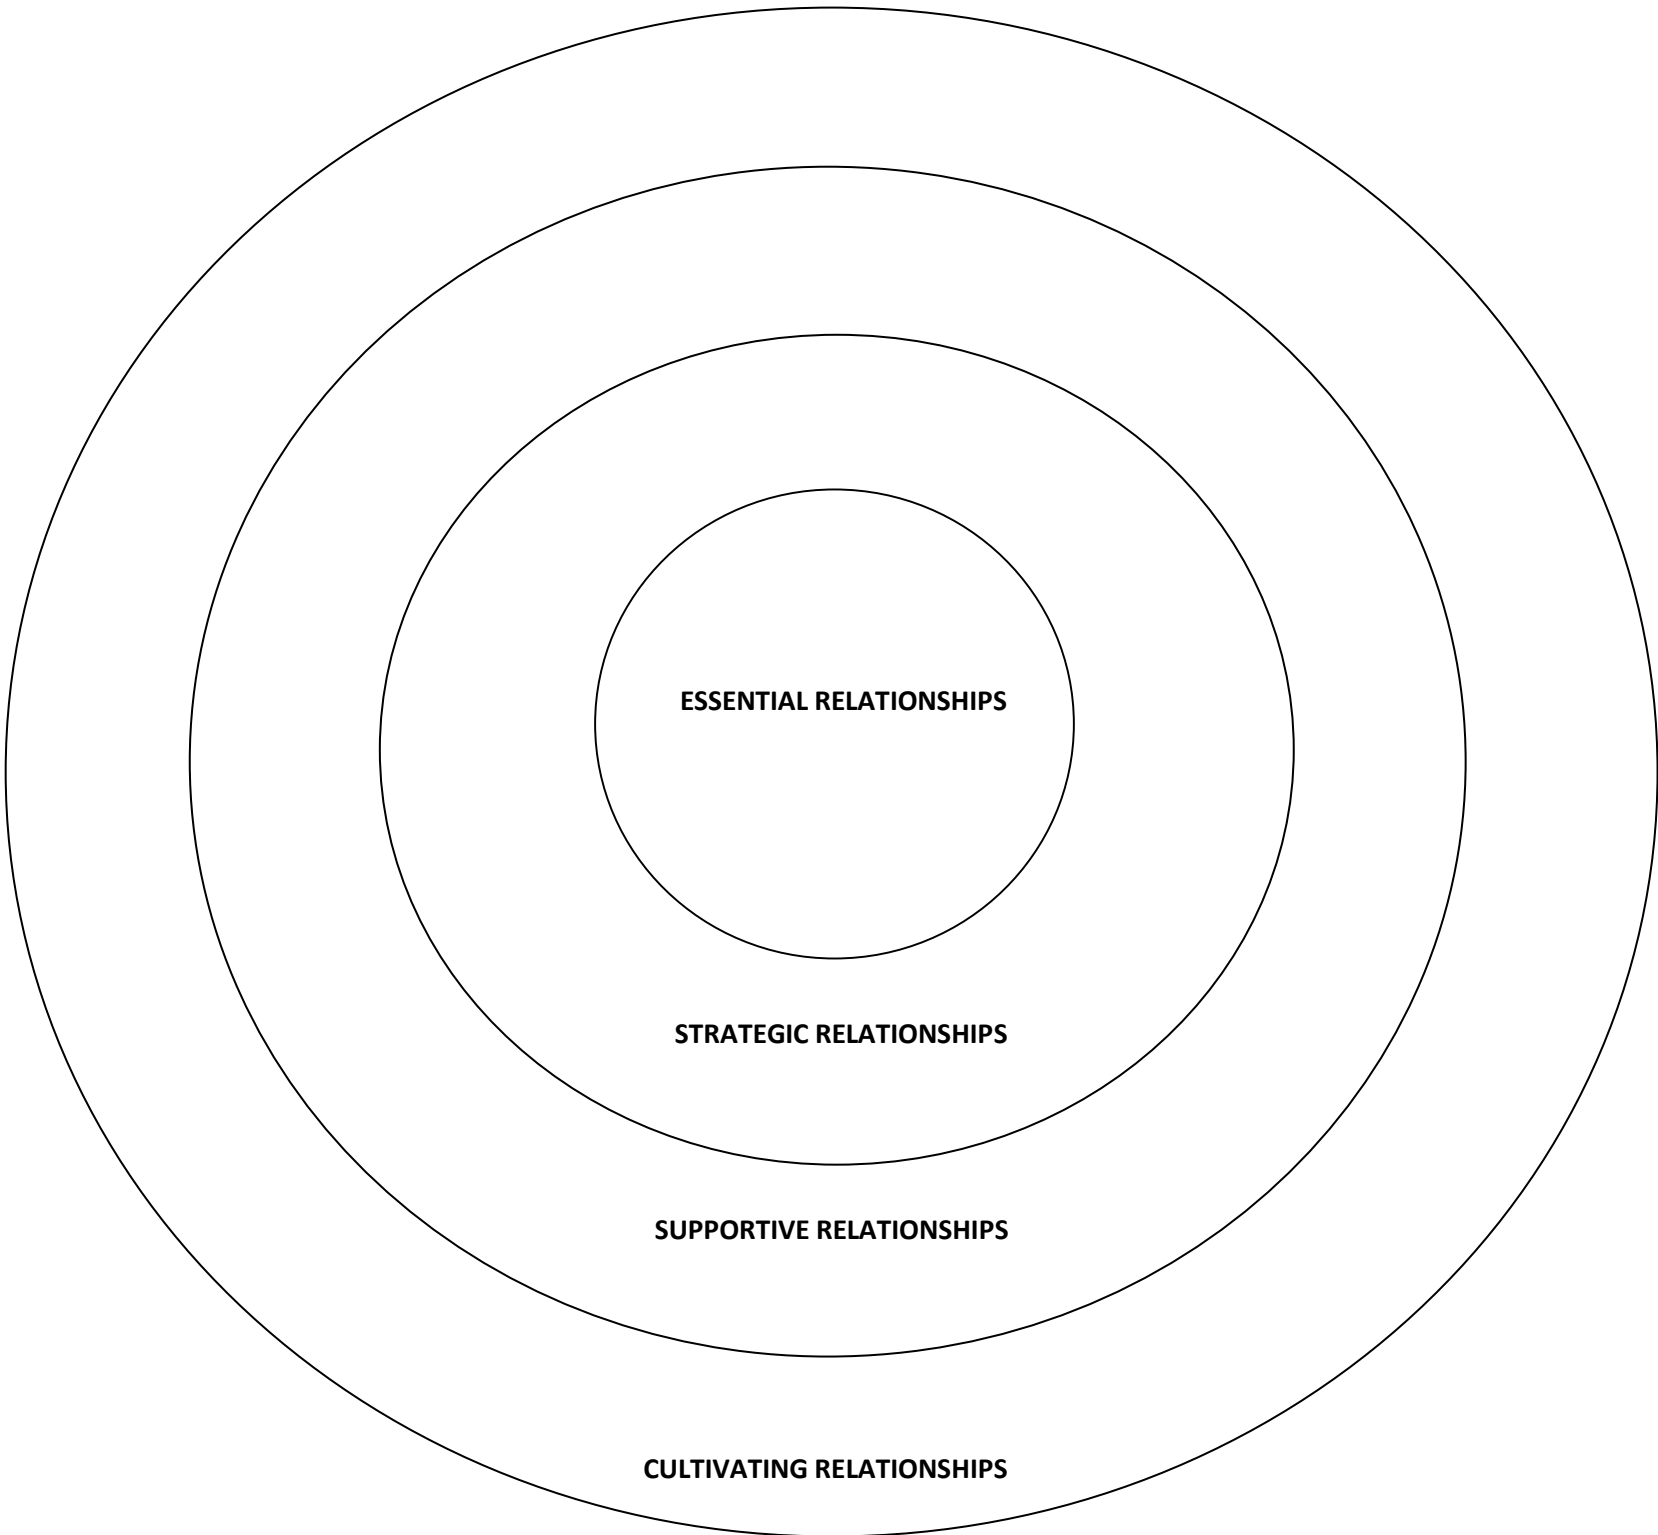

Essential Relationship – Those that you need to work with and engage with regularly.

Strategic Relationship – Someone you are already working with and could help you realise your plans for transforming your local community.

Supportive Relationship – Someone you don't work directly with, but is supporting of what you're doing.

Cultivating Relationship – Someone who you don't currently have a relationship with, but who could help to support your ambitions for community transformation.

Use the diagram on the following page to help you to assess the relationships you currently have and those you want to develop further:

Existing and Potential Partnerships

Identified

A large empty rectangular box with a black border, intended for listing identified existing and potential partnerships.