

FINANCIAL INVESTMENT

The cost of setting up a group will depend on what resources you need to purchase. Ongoing costs are likely to include refreshments and craft resources.

ACTIVITIES

Through fun sessions held once a month, Who Let The Dads Out?, gives space for fathers and father figures to bond with their children.

COMMUNITY SUPPORT

Local authorities, children's centres, GP surgeries, nurseries and schools, maternity services and libraries may be interested in advertising your Who Let The Dads Out? group.

PROJECT SUPPORT

Who Let The Dads Out? provides a complete resource guide. Training is not essential, but courses run by 'Ministry to Fathers' are available. Regional representatives are on hand to offer advice and help you and connect with other Who Let The Dads Out? projects.

SUPPORTING SAFER, STRONGER FAMILIES

Who Let the Dads Out? helps churches support families in their community by giving men an opportunity to spend time with their children and receive parenting support.

NEXT STEP:

To start a Who Let The Dads Out? project, visit www.wholetthedadsout.org.uk

"This church and Who Let The Dads Out? are very much at the heart of us as a family - for family, community and friendship." Who Let the Dads Out? beneficiary.

HUMAN RESOURCES

You will need a core team of about 4 volunteers, preferably some male, to welcome the men, chat with them and to provide activities and serve refreshments.

TIME FRAMES

It takes 2-3 months to recruit volunteers and establish a project. Who Let The Dads Out? groups usually run at least once a month on a Saturday morning for 2 hours.

PHYSICAL RESOURCES

You need a hall or similar venue where there is space for children to play and refreshments to be served. You'll need age-appropriate toys, games, and craft activities.

TESTIMONY

"If you run a group, be encouraged, God is at work in the hearts of men." Who Let the Dads Out? project leader.

